

Introduction

Begin your introduction with a broad idea.

Narrow each sentence towards your thesis statement

A thesis statement is a single declarative sentence that states what you want your readers to know, believe, or understand after having read your essay.

The last sentence in your Introduction is the thesis statement.

Idea #1

The idea paragraphs are where you write about your three main ideas that support your thesis statement

Idea #3

Begin your conclusion with a restatement of your thesis statement

End your conclusion with broad comments that relate how your ideas prove the thesis or relate to the world in general.
